Personal History: I hold a Bachelor of Arts in Clinical Psychology and a Master of Science in Mental Health Counseling, with a concentration in Child Development. As a licensed Florida real estate agent, I've assisted low-income families in becoming first-time homebuyers, aligning with the Affordable Housing Advisory Board's goal. My role as a physician recruiter showcases my commitment to children's well-being by ensuring access to quality healthcare. Volunteering as a mentor for troubled youth reflects my dedication to community service. My past work in a psychiatric hospital, particularly in the intake department focusing on children and families, equips me with valuable insights and empathy. For the Affordable Housing Advisory Board, my strategic approach aligns with reviewing and recommending initiatives to encourage affordable housing while safeguarding property value appreciation. As a member, I aim to provide well-informed insights and balanced recommendations. Regarding the Children and Family Services Board, my Clinical Psychology and Mental Health Counseling background uniquely positions me to advise on services for children, youth, and families. My advocacy for troubled youth in a nonprofit track club showcases my commitment to the well-being of Orange County's youth. In relation to the Citizens' Commission for Children, my experience in healthcare recruitment allows me to contribute to planning and coordinating services, supporting community responses, and collaborating with various organizations. I am poised to assist in developing alternative funding sources, ensuring sustainable solutions for children, youth, and family services. Overall, my multifaceted experience positions me well for contributing to the missions of these advisory boards.
