Personal History: With more than a decade of experience in Financial Services and Human Resources, Lashea Reaves brings skilled expertise in Financial Education and Career Development. As the Vice President of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion for First Horizon, Lashea Reaves saw firsthand how the foundation of personal finance was missing, especially for low-income students of color, and established 8 Cents in a Jar – an award-winning 501c(3) nonprofit that creates opportunities for students in underserved communities to achieve economic mobility through financial education. Since 2016, the organization has prepared over 2000 students to save money, acquire assets, and diminish the cycle of generational poverty. Collectively, students as young as eight years old have purchased stocks, opened high-yield savings accounts with a combined total of over $15,000, acquired real-estate property, and most importantly, empowered students and their parents' position to achieve economic and generational wealth. During COVID-19, most students saw a decrease in employment opportunities while facing economic uncertainty. As a result, Lashea created a financial series for high school students titled "I've Graduated, Now What" and personally mentored students to achieve an average credit score of 731 and average savings total of $6,000, all during COVID-19. To advance the development of generational wealth within students and families, Lashea has developed partnerships with Orange County Citizens' Commission for Children, Rollins College Upward Bound, along with national sponsorship to create Orlando Saves (with America Saves); a campaign managed by the nonprofit Consumer Federation of America, motivates, encourages, and supports low- to moderate-income households to save money, reduce debt, and build wealth. An enthusiast of community involvement, Lashea was recently recognized by the Orlando Business Journal 2021 40 Under 40 and the African American Chamber of Commerce as a 2021 Eagle.
