Personal History: I am an operations and procurement executive with more than twenty-five years of experience across Disney, Carnival, IHG, and PVH, and the CEO & Founder of Jones Lawson, a franchise holding company building early childhood education locations in central Ohio. I hold a Master of Liberal Arts in Sustainability & Environmental Management from Harvard University and a Master of Business Administration from Franklin University. My interest in these boards is rooted in direct experience, not theoretical commitment. For the Big Sand Lake Advisory Board: I have led corporate ESG and sustainability strategy at the enterprise level, participated in the Obama Administration's White House Supply Chain Innovation Roundtable on sustainable sourcing, and hold a graduate degree specifically in environmental management. I believe in plain-language environmentalism that engages communities rather than alienating them. For the Community Action Board: I administered the State of Ohio WIC vendor and supplier program - managing the network that ensured vulnerable families received food and essential support. I understand what community action looks like at the operational level and what it requires to protect program integrity for the people who depend on it. For the Small Business Enterprise Advisory Board: As a Black woman business owner, angel investor, and procurement executive who has managed $5B+ in global spend, I bring both the entrepreneurial perspective and the institutional knowledge of how large organizations source from, and develop, small and minority-owned businesses. I am a Florida resident, a TEDx speaker, and a member of C200 and CHIEF. I am committed to Orange County and ready to work.
