Personal History: I've grown up in the citrus industry. Being a 4th generation citrus grower I have seen the highs and the lows associated with farming. I've been working full time for the past 10 years with Beck Brothers Citrus handling day to day operations dealing with employees and many different aspects associated with citrus care taking. As more and more orange groves are being pushed up in Orange County. I feel I would be a good candidate for the position as I'm someone who is in it for the long haul and doesn't want to see agriculture disappear from Orange County.

Personal History: I am a first generation Turkish-American born and raised in Orange County, Florida who has made a lifelong commitment to serving our local community. Throughout my young adulthood, I have participated in civic programs, volunteered for local charities, and humbly engaged with our community's leaders. As a public service, I have worked tirelessly from my high school days, throughout college, and now to register thousands of county residents to vote. I cherish Orange County's unique positioning as a hub for arts and culture and have made it an intentional part of my life to explore and learn about the wealth of history we offer. You can find me every other Sunday handing out lunchbags and ice cream to children and families by the Coalition for the Homeless in Downtown Orlando and designing graphics pro bono for local nonprofits in my other spare time. In 2013, I co-founded the student-led initiative "Project Bithlo" to revitalize the Bithlo community in East Orange County, where I have had the opportunity to tutor children and engage in an ongoing dialogue with residents regarding everyday hardships including suggestions for improvement for government-provided services. On the morning following the tragedy at Pulse Nightclub, I participated in the first response at ground zero, distributing food and water and counseling grieving families. The same day I launched an online crowdfunding campaign on behalf of American Muslims in Orlando that raised over $110,000 in relief for the families of the victims. I would make an excellent candidate for a board appointment and, if selected, would serve our as a committed member in any capacity. Thank you for the consideration.
